

Aiken High

CAMBRIDGE INTERNATIONAL

Aiken High School is the 1st Cambridge International School in South Carolina. Through Cambridge IGCSE (International General Certificate of Education) courses, all students are immersed in a global curriculum with an emphasis on developing an informed curiosity and a lasting passion for learning. Advanced students may enroll in Cambridge AICE (Advanced International Certificate of Education) courses. Cambridge AICE courses prepare students for higher education and employment by developing in-depth understanding of subject matter alongside skills critical to success such as the ability to think critically, carry out independent research, evaluate arguments, work independently and in teams, communicate clear and well-reasoned arguments, and understand global issues from multiple perspectives. Cambridge AICE students have the opportunity to earn a college credit for exam and the option to pursue a Cambridge AICE diploma.

AIKEN HIGH CAMBRIDGE LEARNER ATTRIBUTES:

- Confident in working with information and ideas – their own and those of others
- Responsible for themselves, responsive to and respectful of others
- Reflective as learners, developing their ability to learn
- Innovative and equipped for new and future challenges
- Engaged intellectually and socially, ready to make a difference
- Expressive in their written and verbal communications
- Determined to reach their life goals and ready to conquer challenges along the way

Cambridge Assessment
International Education

Cambridge International School

Learn more: www.acpsd.net/AHS

AHS CAMBRIDGE INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL

